BWGL'S FUTURE

As most of you are well aware, our future at LW Clapp is still in limbo, even though Mayor Longwell and the City Council did grant Clapp a "stay of execution" for this season ... thanks in part to those who attended and spoke at the Park Board Meeting. A big thanks to Cindy Renard for her ongoing and relentless perseverance in trying to preserve the golf course as it is. Last week, the City Council discussed the budget as it relates to many of the city's amenities, including golf courses. Vicki Little represented BWGL in person and I, for one, sent a written memo to the Council further stating our cause. It is not too late for others to chime in and let the Council know your thoughts. We have all the Council members and the Mayor's email addresses if you are interested.

In the meantime, Cheryl Greiving is doing a survey of our desires, if and when, we have to make a decision regarding where we will play should our "stay" expire. If you have not responded to the survey, please do! We want all members to be involved in any decision that has to be made.

Nadine

In case you missed it: Laura Davies won the inaugural U.S. Senior Women's Open by 10 shots. By all measurements, the Tournament was a great success! Laura Davies of England took a five-stroke lead into the final round at Chicago Golf Club in Wheaton, Ill., and turned it into a victory lap. Davies, 54, a World Golf Hall of Fame member, posted a bogey-free round of five-under par 68 on Sunday to win by 10 over another Hall of Famer, 58-year-old Juli Inkster. Davies' 72-hole score was 16-under par 276, while Inkster finished at six-under par 286. Both Davies and Inkster have remained active on the LPGA, playing 12 and nine events, respectively, this year. Laura still ranks 28th on the LPGA in driving distance, at nearly 262 yards.
