

SWIM PARTY AT BARB'S

Barb invited everyone to her house after playing golf to enjoy food, drink and the pool. As usual she prepared a bountiful array of snacks with hamburgers, chips and beans! Most folks brought their own drinks and most everyone enjoyed the pool daylight through dark!!

About 15 or so showed up for the pool party and even though Barb supplied a lot of things, she did not have a cabana boy :-((... and the photographer did not get there in time to take any swim suit pictures :-)) and nobody fell into the pool :-(). But that didn't stop those who were there from having a fun time. Thanks to Barb for her hospitality once again. If you didn't make it this year, maybe we'll do it again next year!
