Planners

These Planners were put to the test on this tournament!! They had some really good events planned, one of which was a "team event". All the players were divided into teams to vie for a special prize ... but ... more players showed up than they had planned on!! For whatever reason 3 or 4 of the mailed entries were not received. So, try as they might, they could not make the team event work so it had to be scrapped (for perhaps a later tournament?). In addition to trying to rearrange the teams, they had to redo the pairings as well as the prizes "on the run"! Kudo's to them for a job well done! All that being said, it was a fun day (as usual) and there were no other incidents, unless you want to consider hitting over the water on # 5 an incident. I do not know how many got over it on the first try, but I know I didn't! Partly because I don't follow my own advice, which is "hit the ball in the water from as far out as possible, carry around and hit again per BWGL rules". Did I do that? Nope! I laid up, didn't get across. Then still had to use the BWGL rule. Result? BIG SCORE!!
